Tally-Ho Parties Begin to Make Their Presence Known Through the Streets-Surprises that Were Really Per-feetly Understood Heforehand. The social event of the week was the beautiful home wedding of Miss Alda Mills, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Mills, to Mr. Arthur Rathburn, which occurred on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The decorations of the house were mostly in yellow roses and snowballs, and the effect was very dainty and artistic. Daylight was excluded and the soft glow of shaded lamps and wax candles lent charm to the impressive ceremony which followed. Mantels and windows were banked with flowers and palms and the improvised altar was entirely in snowballs and pure white carnations. Promptly at 4 o'clock the bridal party came down, singing the "Lohengrin" wedding march to a piane and mandelin ac companiment. First Miss Leland of Hastings Miss House advanced slowly down staircase, with long white silk in their hands, making an for the bridal party. They aiste were followed by four young girls in quaint little white organdie gowns, Misses Forsyth Higgins, Parker and Free. Mr. McMahon came next with Miss Mary Sargent, who looked levely in a gown of rose colored swiss trimmed in ribbons of the same shade. Ther came Dr. McMullen and Miss Alice Parker in pale blue swies with lace frills and ribbons. Dr. Butler, the officiating cleary man. Mr. Butler, the officiating clergyman, Mr ald Dietz and Miss Pickens of Hasting followed. Mr. Dietz was best man and Mis-Pickens, an old and dear friend of the bride was maid of honor. Her gown was of chrysanthemum yellow organile and white lace. Miss Mills, the bride, came in on the arm of the groom, Mr. Rathburn. She were a beaugown of finest white silk musli-white silk and trimined with bertha of exquisite duchesse lace, a myrtle wrenth in her dark hair. No one ever saw Alda Mills look lovelier than on this occasion. She has grown up in this community and is loved for her sweet manners and wis-someness, as well as for her intellectuality and pretty face. Mr. Rathburn also has many warm friends here and was the subject of hearty congratulations. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Rathburn stood under a buge white flower umbrella and received the good wishes and "godspeeds" of their many friends. The house was crowded, but not uncomfortably so. The dining room was all in pink and delicious refreshments were served from a half after 4 until 6. In the front room upstairs the gifts were displayed. They were numerous and coetly, evincing the high es-teem in which these two happy young people are held. Mr. and Mrs. Rathburn are spending their honeymoon at the Brown Palace in Denver. They will be at home at 2538 Dayenport street Tuesdays in June.

Owing to Miss Emily Wakeley's slow recovery from her recent severe illness, she will be unable to take her long cherished trip abroad with Miss Collins, her place, how ever, being taken by Miss Dundy, who, with Miss Wakeley, will constitute Miss Collins' "personally conducted" party of sightseers on the other side. Owing to these changes in her plans, Mies Collins and her friends will sall until June 8, having chosen the follow the plan as mapped out by The Bee but in addition have added Greece and Turkey to the interesting list of countries to be vis ited. From Naples they will go by sea to Patras, and from there by rail to Athens where a week will be devoted to the old Greek temples and classic ruins, to say nothing of the new gods whom they may discover. Thence to Constantinople, Apropos of Miss Collins and her trip, it is interesting to know she has been living at the Omaha club, an innovation here in the west. She has been granted the privileges of she has had an interesting party of friends either to luncheon or dinner. During last week she had as her guests Mrs. J. N. H. Patrick, Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Joseph Barker. Pritchett, Mrs. Charles Keller. Mrs. Harold Gifford, Mrs. McKenna, Miss Wakeley, Miss Bessie Yates, Mr. Henry W. Yates.

Miss Grace Knight, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Coutant for several months past, leaves Wednesday for hor home in Austin, Tex. After a few days spent with her father, who is remembered by many of the older residents of Omaha, having been formerly connected with the Western Union Telegraph company at this point, Miss Kuight will go to New York to follow what has been her predilection for several years, the dramatic profession, pre-liminary to her entering light opera. Miss Knight is an exceedingly talented young woman. She has a beautiful voice, which she places splendidly, and, what is greatly to her advantage, has the well developed instincts of the cultured comedienne, needing only the stage training to make her success certain. She goes to the metropolis with the well wishes of a host of frinds. She has had letters from Mr. Augustin Daly, Mr. Mansfield and Mr. Frohman, for whom she will read when in New York, and those who know her have no hesitancy in predicting a brilliant success for the aspiring young ar

The Trilby Club.

Friday evening the members of the latest social organization, the Trilby club, gave their Initial entertainment, and it was a great success from every point of view. It was held in Morand's dancing academy, and it is safe to say that the academy never had within ier crowd than on Friday night. 9 o'clock Miss Stitt and Mr. Holton led the grand march, followed by about fifty-two couples. His strong, clear voice could be heard by every one of the thousands in the grand stand and among the troops. The sunset gun, which was fired at the end of the parade, made all the girls jump. The chorus of "ohs" and little screams was fascinating. The sight of the troops as seen by the spectators was grand, but the view of the grand stand and the crowd by the soldiers in line was equally great. > Eugene Ysaye, the celebrated Beigian vio linist, who will be at Boyd's June 4 is meeting with large ovations in San Francisco. The Bohemian club has invitations out for a brilliant reception to this eminent ar-tist, the Musicians union and the Press club will each tender special receptions to this great genuis. Mr. Ysaye will be assisted by Amie Lachaume, the French planist. Ysaye's skill as a virtuoso will soon speak for itself, but for those who rank artistic work like any other commodity, at what it can be exchanged for in dollars, it may be stated that with the possible exception of Paderewski his receipts are supposed to have been larger than those of any instrumentalist who has visited this country. Omaha will have an op-portunity to hear Ysaye at a less price of admission than New York, Chicago, Denver or San Francisco, as the usual price charged in the above places has been $2.50, while here 75 cents, $1 and $1.50 will prevail, and Boyd's ought to be taxed to its full capacity.

Leoncavallo has completed an opera which is on an English subject, the title being "Thomas Chatterton." The composer was re cently granted an audience with Queen Mar gherita of Italy, who promised to be present brought out at an early date in Rome.

Miss Ellen Beach Yaw, she of the gifted voice, passed through Omaha last week en route to St. Paul. To a friend she stated while in this city that her season had been wonderfully successful and that next year she proposed to raise the prices at her concerts and sing less. She goes abroad for a summer of rest and study. The concert under the direction of Mr. Homer Moore, to be given at the First Con-gregational church next Tuesday evening, promises to be one of the most artistic and enjoyable of the season.
